Host a Chamber Event!

Are you ready to welcome people into your space? We are looking for hosts for our Business After Business events, Women in Business Networking events, and business meetings.

Hosts receive great marketing, both in advance and by showcasing their venue. For more information on becoming a host, contact Cassie Bate Hurley, Senior Director of Marketing & Operations, at events@arlingtonchamber.org.

CHAIR'S MESSAGE

Access, Opportunities, and Inclusion

I am proud to be a part of an organization that actively seeks opportunities to support the many different individuals, professionals, and organizations in our community. The Arlington Chamber membership is made up of a very diverse set of businesses, from large national companies to small local organizations. I am proud to note the Chamber recently launched a program aimed specifically at supporting Virginia's small businesses. Called the Small Business Accelerator program, the program works with verified small, women, and minority-owned (SWaM) businesses to increase accessibility to the Chamber and its member benefits. The program, developed in partnership with and sponsored by Amazon, helps SWaM businesses overcome the largest barrier to Chamber membership – cost.

Beth Borowski

The program provides SWaM businesses with the opportunity to join the Chamber at a discounted rate for the first year of membership. SWaM businesses are an important part of the business community and increasing access to the various benefits of membership will provide valuable resources to help the businesses grow and ensure Arlington continues as a great place to do business. If you know a SWaM business looking to benefit from networking, educational opportunities, community engagement, or advocacy, please have a member of the business contact the Chamber.

In addition to the Small Business Accelerator program, the Chamber is supporting professional women through the Women in Business program. The recent AWE Women in Business Summit, held in February, brought together over 70 of Arlington's women business owners and professionals for a half-day summit of networking and education. Attendees gained valuable knowledge on career-oriented topics such as how to become an entrepreneur and how to be an effective ally to Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC). Aside from the summit, the Women in Business program includes regular networking and educational opportunities throughout the year. If you're looking to expand your support network, I encourage you to attend one of these events; connections formed at these events have been powerful.

As always, the Chamber team is here to help you with the many challenges your business is facing. Chamber programming continues to evolve to meet the needs of our members. Please don't hesitate to reach out for help or with a question, and I hope to see you at a future event.

Virginia General Assembly 2022 Session Reaches Crossover

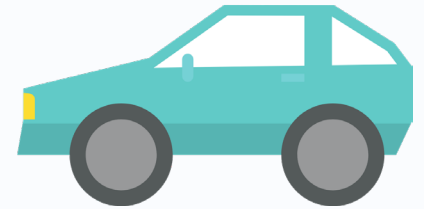

The 2022 Virginia General Assembly session marks a return to something like what we knew before the pandemic began. Both the House and Senate are meeting in person, along with their committees and subcommittees. Visitors can once again testify and meet with people in person as well. However, testifying in committee via Zoom remains an option for those who want it, as people from across the Commonwealth have found it convenient to do so. This year is the long session, which means the General Assembly reached “crossover” in February, the procedural point by which all bills must have been passed in their chamber of origin, except for the budget. The General Assembly is scheduled to adjourn by March 12.

The Chamber is actively advocating for our policy priorities. Highlights include bills relating to group benefit plans, extending land use permits, and promoting new sources of energy. We are also engaging strongly against bills that risk over-regulating business, subjecting bars and restaurants to excessive litigation, and preventing businesses from taking measures to mitigate the spread of COVID-19. We are also advocating for $200 million in relief money for the hospitality and tourism industries to be included in the budget.

Chamber Emphasizes Regional Transportation Improvements Are Essential for Arlington

The Chamber joined with businesses and organizations from across the region in support of the Northern Virginia Transportation Coalition’s 2022 priorities. Having a good transportation network throughout Northern Virginia is vital to Arlington’s economic success. A regional multimodal transportation network remains key to Arlington’s workforce competitiveness, quality of life, environmental sustainability, and equitable access to opportunity.

Arlington County Board Approves Pentagon City Sector Plan

The Arlington County Board approved the Pentagon City Sector Plan in February on a 5-0 vote. The Chamber testified in support of this plan because it represents a good step forward in creating a new dynamic downtown in Arlington. It identifies several locations that are well-suited for increased density in that area, and the added density will drive significant commercial growth as well.

Arlington Grants $3.25 Million to Arlington Convention and Visitors Service to Promote Tourism in Arlington

The Chamber remains disappointed that the County opted not to grant relief money to Arlington’s hotels. However, we are pleased that the County Board accepted $3.25 million from the Virginia Tourism Corporation for the Arlington Convention and Visitors Service (ACVS) to expand marketing efforts in Arlington to generate visitor spending. We appreciate ACVS meeting with our member hotels in December to take suggestions on how that money can be spent most effectively, and we look forward to continuing to work with them in the months to come to ensure that their plan is successful.

Members with questions about policy-related matters or advocacy support can contact Steven Marku, Government Affairs Director, at advocacy@arlingtonchamber.org.

Chamber Celebrates Women in Business with Senator Mark Warner

On Friday, February 4, the Chamber held the AWE Women in Business Summit with more than 70 professionals in attendance. This half-day summit was designed as a professional development and networking event for female entrepreneurs, executives, and professionals of all levels. Previously hosted by Awesome Women Entrepreneurs (AWE), this was the second summit since AWE became part of the Chamber in 2020.

“In the Chamber’s 98 years, I am the fifth executive officer and the first female one. I am especially proud to celebrate the Chamber’s support of professional women through this event,” said Kate Bates, President & CEO of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce.

During the summit, attendees engaged with Senator Mark Warner during his remarks and Q&A. He highlighted many barriers to women’s professional success, including the need for affordable childcare throughout the Commonwealth. Senator Warner went on to discuss other topics, such as increasing the workforce through various benefits in healthcare, closing wage disparities, and adjusting to a new hybrid workplace.

The sessions included panels on mental and physical health and the path to entrepreneurship. Summit participants also attended expert presentations on what effective allyship looks like, improving workplace culture through games and creativity, finding a place in the “boy’s club,” and much more.

If you missed the 2022 AWE Women in Business Summit, you can still enjoy the Women in Business programming throughout the year. The Chamber offers the Women in Business Networking series and Women in Business Master Class. These events occur on alternating months throughout the year and strive to foster a community of growth and support to all of its attendees. ### CULPEPPER GARDEN

Culpepper Garden Plans to “Turn Arlington Yellow” with Flowers

The senior living facility has planted 33,000 daffodil bulbs in their recently restored gardens in celebration of their ribbon cutting reopening later this month. Congressman Don Beyer and other elected officials are expected to join Culpepper Garden staff and guests for this celebration on March 25. The event will also feature a dedication to local first responders. Culpepper Garden staff expect a spectacular display of waves of daffodils for the event. The event is open to the public to attend.

GEORGE MASON UNIVERSITY

IDIA Facility Well Underway at Arlington Campus

George Mason University's Institute for Digital InnovAtion (IDIA) will house the new school of computing, and become an innovation hub for Arlington. The facility is planned to be open for community use; George Mason staff say it will “fundamentally change” the campus and the broader community. The university also says the IDIA facility will engage in cutting edge work to shape the future of our digital society, promoting equality, wellbeing, security and prosperity. The facility is anticipated to open 2025 and serve as an key component in Arlington for tech talent and innovation.

ARLINGTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Career Center Expansion to Relaunch

Arlington Public Schools sets new plans to relaunch their career center expansion with construction starting December 2023. The project is being built next to the existing Arlington Career Center, a facility for college and career-readiness programs. The expansion will include a new parking garage and school which will serve as a modern facility that is for students to learn the necessary skills for future positions and to thrive as adults. The building is expected to be completed in 2025 with the entire project finishing by 2027.

Site plan for the Career Center expansion

Amazon Confirms Amazon Fresh in National Landing

After private year-long renovations at Crystal Drive, Amazon confirmed that they will be opening an Amazon Fresh store in Crystal City. The specialty grocery store will include both traditional check out registers and their “Just Walk Out” technology. This could be Crystal City’s first grocery store in more than 15 years. Amazon currently has multiple National Landing stores and sites including HQ2, Pentagon City Whole Foods, and another soon-to-be Potomac Yard Amazon Fresh. There are currently discussions about Amazon expanding its presence in Arlington with more retail or grocery stores in the future.

NATIONAL LANDING BID, RESTAURANT ASSOCIATION OF METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON Metro Area Organizations Partner to Support National Landing Businesses

The National Landing BID with the Restaurant Association of Metropolitan Washington (RAMW) worked together to help support restaurants and small businesses impacted by COVID-19. Their grant program, the Love Local initiative, aided National Landing area businesses this past February. Love Local supported wages for workers and various operating costs.

Tracy Saygeh Gabriel, President & Executive Director of National Landing BID, and Kathy Hollinger, President & CEO of RAMW, hope that the program will help businesses during these difficult times and save jobs and community assets. The Love Local initiative supported 30 businesses in National Landing in 2021, including restaurants, retailers, fitness studios, and many more.
