ALPHAGRAPHS FRANCHISES WORK TOGETHER TO SUPPORT LOCAL RESTAURANTS

ALEXANDRIA, VA—AlphaGraphics Alexandria\Arlington, a locally owned marketing and communications agency, has joined with other AlphaGraphics franchises in the metropolitan DC area to help local restaurants coping with the coronavirus pandemic by providing waterproof roadside signs free of charge. The eye-catching design of these signs help the restaurants notify patrons and other passersby that they are open for business and providing curbside pick-up, delivery or carry-out service.

“In this time of crisis, we are grateful to find small ways to help our neighboring businesses who are finding creative ways to keep their doors open and their staffs employed,” says owner Jay Thomas “Many restaurant owners have supported our business since we opened our doors in 1983, so we are looking for ways to return the favor during this devastating coronavirus outbreak.”

Six other AlphaGraphics franchises are participating in the program: four in Virginia (Leesburg, Chantilly, Springfield, and Tyson’s Corner) as well as the franchises in DC and Gaithersburg, MD. Interested restaurateurs just need to contact the closest location for more details.
